The North Slope Borough expresses its appreciation for the efforts of many people who provided input for this report. Planning Director Rhoda Ahmaogak and Deputy Planning Director Gordon Brower directed the work of the project, and current and former Borough employees contributed many hours of research and writing. URS Corporation conducted initial research and coordinated public input during the early stages of the project. The report was finalized by a technical team composed of Dudley Platt and Jason Bergerson with assistance from Glenn Gray and Associates. Research assistance was provided by Fadil Limani, and Mari Moore provided invaluable assistance in producing many of the figures.

The Alaska Department of Commerce, Community and Economic Development deserves special acknowledgement along with the North Slope Borough grant administrators who cooperated closely to make this project a success.

Cover Photos: Subsistence photo by Gordon Brower, Umiat drilling photo by Judy Patrick courtesy of Linc Energy, and caribou photo by Jim Dau.